W. News

Each year at Thanksgiving and Christmas time, the Associated Women and the Valkyries sponsor a basket of food for some needy family in the community.

This year the A.W. have the Thanksgiving basket as their project and instead of just one basket this year, they are going to try, with the help of the students and faculty, to have more than one basket.

There will be a box in the main hall of the Ad building today and tomorrow and also in the library, Student Union and main office. There will be a jar in which those who do not wish to bring canned goods or such for the box, may donate money to help buy the turkey and other perishables.

If you were a needy person just think how much this Thanksgiving dinner would mean to you. Even a nickel will help, so let's have everyone donate and make several baskets instead of one.

Second Chance

For those slow people who just couldn't seem to find time a few weeks ago to have their pictures taken for the annual, we are giving you one more chance.

Having your picture in the year book adds a lot to the year book and it will mean a lot to you in later years, if not right now. This is very important, so please go to the basement of the administration building either today or tomorrow between 9:00 and 3:00.

Retakes will be taken for 75c if it is the fault of the camera or photographer.

Club Pictures Scheduled

Starting on Thursday, November 15, the different clubs will be scheduled to have their pictures taken. Each club will be notified as to what time their picture will be taken.

The groups will meet in the living room of Morrison hall at their scheduled time.

Music Teachers to Present Recital

The students of the music teachers at Boise Junior college, Miss Eleanor Snodgrass, Mr. Carroll J. Myers and Mr. John H. Best, will give a fall recital Friday evening at 8:00 in the BJC auditorium.

It will be a mixed recital of piano, violin and cello with Carol Cachelder, Marilyn Smith, Elaine Palmer, Bonnie Cady, Jane Bass, Bonnie Yates, Barbara Morris, Carol Davenport, Barton Ballantyne, Virginia Bivens, Carma Rich, Sidney Hultgren, Sally Beattie and George Collaer at the piano; Holder Mitchell, Showna Robison, David Six, Marion Peterson, Arnold Nixon and Leona Friedly, on the violin, and Richard Blinn, Marilyn Muzatko and Eunice Watson on the cello.

Mr. Myers is the chairman of the recital.

June Obenchain was crowned Queen of Homecoming at the Homecoming formal Saturday night which was held in the new ballroom in the Student Union. John Milani introduced the queen and gave her the official kiss. He seemed rather frustrated — his excuse was "I didn't know what to say or do—they just called on me". Her attendants Humm!!! Her attendants were introduced at the dance also, they were: Gerri Privett, Gloria Johnson, Luane Brent and Barbara Moulton.

Students Hear English Diplomat

Along with a heavy speaking schedule, including a radio talk and addresses to several interested club organizations, Paul Gore Booth, from the British embassy in Washington, D. C., spoke to a group at BJC consisting of several classes, Thursday afternoon, November 8. Mr. Booth, an experienced diplomat, having held posts in Vienna, Tokyo and Washington, was educated at Eaton and Oxford and is now director general of the British information service in the U. S.

CONGRATULATIONS ARE IN ORDER FOR A SUCCESSFUL HOMECOMING

Y.M.C.A. Seeks B.J.C. Interest

Paul E. Keyser, Regional Director of Northwest Y.M.C.A., visited BJC last week for two major purposes; first, to introduce the inter-collegiate program of the Y.M. and Y.W. Christian associations to representatives from BJC faculty, student council, organized religious groups and interested students, and second, to determine the interest and desire for the installation of this program in Boise Junior college.

A decision was reached to send representatives to the inter-collegiate conference on campus religious life sponsored by the Pacific Northwest council of student Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. that was held at Caldwell Friday and Saturday, November 9 and 10. Those representatives attending observed the Christian organizations from other colleges in action and will give their support at a meeting this coming Wednesday noon in room 207. All campus religious organizations are urged to have representatives at that meeting; likewise all other campus organizations and individual students interested are invited and urged to have a voice in this matter.

"This organization," Mr. Keyser said, "is not meant to interfere with or take the place of the individual church organizations but rather to represent a cooperation between religious groups and to supplement a program of religious fellowship for those students not belonging to any church."

"Each college Y.M.C.A. group is free to plan its own program," he said.

Well, gang, we did it. This year's Homecoming was a great success and perhaps the best Boise has ever seen.

We should all congratulate Chad White and all the various clubs and people who took part.

Most of all, however, we should congratulate our team. The Broncos put the finishing touches on a perfect Homecoming by defeating the Parsons 27-14. It was a good game and the entire team did a swell job.

At the half-time, June Obenchain, our Homecoming queen and her attendants, Barbara Moulton, Gerri Privett, Gloria Johnson and Luane Brent were introduced to the crowd, and the queen was crowned.

Club Advisors to Receive Handbooks

All advisors for clubs and organizations on the campus now have in their hands the "Handbook for Advisors", published by the faculty committee on student activities. The booklet is the result of considerable thought and effort on the part of those who published it. It is divided into five parts: part one is devoted to listing the various clubs on the campus.

Part two describes the method of selecting advisers and is followed by a section defining the scholarship requirements for club activities. Part four considers club budgets and outlines a suggested system to be followed. The last part of the bulletin describes the procedures for scheduling all student activities.

Although the pamphlet is primarily for the adviser, club officers will find it very useful in carrying out the functions of their offices.

Language Dept. to Present French Film

Wednesday, Nov. 14, at 8 p.m. in room 209, the Boise Junior college language department will present a French movie, entitled "L'Evangelie de Pierre" (The Gospel in Stone), to which the public is cordially invited. There will be no admission charge.

This film narrates the life of Christ and uses photographs of medieval stone carvings of French cathedrals describing scenes from the life of the Saviour.

In a time when the greater part of mankind was illiterate, art provided a first rate means of passing on the biblical stories and our present generation still marvels at the expressiveness that we find in the work of artists of whom we do not even know the name.

The accompanying narration is

The Associated Women's Council wishes to thank all the men students and faculty for their fine support in the "mum" sale.

College Girl's Theme Song
I used to think when I was young
Boys were nice as pie;
But when I think of what I think,
I think I think a lie.

We hear tell that a certain teacher's lecture was so boring the other day that two of the empty chairs got up and walked out.

In French, but since the story is familiar to all of us, anybody can understand and enjoy it.

The film should prove of particular interest to French students, to art lovers and to anybody with religious interests.

The film was shown last year to some of the classes at BJC and was highly acclaimed by those who were able to see it.

B.J.C. Receives Merit Certificate

President Chaffee announced last Thursday that Boise Junior college had received a certificate of merit for outstanding work in the field of audio-visual education.

This certificate was presented by O. D. Cole of the Idaho state department of education on behalf of the steering committee of the "Audio-Visual Guide."

In making the presentation, Mr. Cole said, "This recognition comes as a result of the outstanding work of Mr. A. H. Chatburn in the development of the audio-visual aids programs in the schools of southwestern Idaho."

Mr. Chatburn is "this year" on leave of absence studying for the doctorate degree at Washington State college.

No Boarding Nest for Tots

As college students, we are now in the adult world. We should think like adults and act like adults—we should know that we have certain responsibilities.

It seems, however, that too many students come to college with that "what the hell" attitude. They don't give a hoot about responsibility, they don't care what happens to anyone or anything that isn't theirs. They're perfectly happy to "tear up the joint" any time, any place, because, after all, it isn't theirs. They just want to have a big, gay time—all the time.

What are these characters? Just big showoffs, big noises. BJC doesn't need them. BJC is a college—not a boarding house for overgrown children.

CLUB CAPERS Weekly Wisdom

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish club met Monday evening in the recreation room of Morrison hall for the purpose of organizing for the year. Election of officers was tabled until the next meeting, December 3.

Don Luce was elected temporary chairman and Diane Huschke was appointed social chairman in charge of refreshments and program for the next meeting.

Mr. Gottenberg showed some colored pictures on a bull fight in Saltillo the past summer and Oliverio Ruiz explained the pictures in Spanish. The remainder of this program was devoted to listening to Ruiz play several piano numbers, the most popular being some boogie.

GERMAN CLUB

Bingo in German and German recorded music provided interest for the club meeting held in the Student Union Nov. 6. Plans were made to read the story of the Birth of Christ in German at the next meeting to be held at Dr. De Neufville's home in December.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Representatives from the club to the Northwest I.R.C. regional conference at Portland, Ore., reported at the meeting held Friday noon. Also a belated recognition of United Nations week was observed by having a talk by a club member, Cleon Kotter, on "Why the U. N.?"

L. D. S. CLUB

Students in the L.D.S. club are arriving at school an hour early on Tuesdays and Thursdays; reason, Z. Reed Millar, a very capable instructor, is teaching an institute class.

1702 ROBERT

By Cleon M. Kotter

We cringe as we read in our histories about the once common, but now intolerable practice of slavery. We think sanction of such a practice as human slavery to be inconceivable. But have you ever given thought to the fact that often we are our own slave traders? We sell ourselves to enslaving habits, absorb fear enslaving superstitions and tie ourselves down to progression killing prejudices and falsehoods without bothering to seek out facts and learn the truth.

Scriptural Wisdom—Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, if ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.
(St. John 8: 31-32)

W.A.A.

The W.A.A. hockey team returned from Pullman, Washington, with a record of one win, two losses in games played at the conference there.

Girls' volley ball will start on Tuesday, Nov. 13, at 3 o'clock. Everyone who can and would like to is urged to go out for this sport so we will have a top-flight team this year.

BJC Sports Parade

By Dwight Dickey

In the Junior College's homecoming game against Westminster, the fans were treated to a duel between two top JC backs in the northwest. Merlin Howard from Boise, and Al Starns from Salt Lake City. Both play the left-half spot on the single wing and the Notre Dame box.

Although Starns completed two passes for the Parsons' two scores and did some nice running, Howard proved to be the shining star of the game. The "Scooter" completed seven passes, one which was good to Ford for the Broncos first TD. Howard also found paydirt on runs of 6 and 38 yards. Although Merlin doesn't claim to be a punter, he excelled in that department when he put a 55-yard kick out of bounds on the four-yard line in the second quarter.

THE IRON HORSE

The Iron Horse on the Bronco squad seems to be fullback Dwight Winslow, who thrives on seeing how many tacklers he can bowl over when he is churning up the middle. Winslow, who is a great power runner, also can stay with the best of them in the open field running. As Coach Blankley puts it, "he can dangle."

* * *

HERE AND THERE

Fulwyler was the only sixty-minute man on the field when the Broncos dropped the Parsons from the top spot in the conference . . . BJC guard Quinn seems to playing a halfback spot for the JC opponents lately . . . I know that everyone watches the runner in the course of the game, but if you want to see some hard blocking, keep an eye on Curran . . . Milani knows why the Broncos got stopped on the one foot line last week . . . Pastos did an outstanding job of returning kickoffs against the Parsons.

* * *

COACHES

Bob Gilbert and C. W. Totten are guiding the round ballers through their first two weeks of practice until Blankley can find time to relieve the fellows. Bob and CW are getting the 15 fellows in shape, and take it from me, they're doing a very good job.

Star of the Week

This week's star is "Little Gorgeous Gus" Pastos. Gus has made many fabulous runs for the Broncos and has set a good pace against our foes this season.

In last week's game with Westminster, Pastos charged down the field like a crazed bull, and the Parsons found him very hard to stop. When Gus gets the ball he turns into a machine. He heads down the field, gives it the gas, and forgets the brakes.

Little Gus hails from Chicago and attended the U. of I. last year. He is a fine ball player and fears no one nor no thing—except—WOMEN! John Curan tells me that this is really a bluff, however, and actually he is a ladies' man. We can't be sure of this but one thing we can be sure of, he is really a football star.

Correction Please!

It seems I have a little explaining to do for a statement from my column last week. The statement was found in the Star of the Week column and concerned "Singing Red" Fowler and a certain girl cheerleader.

Red took this certain cheerleader to the Homecoming dance and found he was in a batch of trouble because I had stated that she was his pet peeve.

I'm sure this is all a mistake and Mr. Fowler didn't tell me to put that statement in the paper (although it is the truth). I don't know how this cheerleader feels about Red, but Mr. LeRoy Weber and I certainly know how Red feels about her.

(If Joan Hartzler doesn't know what Red thinks of this cheerleader, I wish she would ask him. If she hasn't the nerve to ask him, I'm sure LeRoy or I can give her the dope.)

Sincerely,
Dean Hodges.
